

ALLIES GAINING AT DARDANELLES

Advance 500 yards During Furious Fighting of the Week.

CAPTURE 500 MOSLEMS

Casualties Reported Heavy Under
Bombardments Preceding the Charge on the Trenches.

Paris, June 25.—An official note made public gives details of land operations on the north side of the Dardanelles between June 1 and 8, and recites that as a result of attacks by the French and British a gain of from 150 to 500 yards along a front of over a mile was made. British troops took over 500 prisoners. The text of the communication follows:

"Our offensive movement during the last two weeks of the month of May had been gradual, the line moving forward in small sections and making its way from one vantage point to the next point of support.

"But on June 4 the whole line was ordered to attack. The idea was to keep the enemy occupied at all points simultaneously, thus preventing him from bringing up reserves at any one point and at the same time giving our men further opportunity to organize the positions already captured by them.

"At about 11 o'clock in the morning the bombardment of the enemy positions was begun. Owing to a long period of dry weather, huge clouds of dust were thrown up by the shell, and were blown back to our lines by a north wind, a condition which made our firing difficult. The enemy made only an occasional reply to the hail of our '75' guns. Toward noon our aeroplanes reported that all of the enemy's batteries had been silenced. Our infantry, at a given signal, rushed from the trenches and from the cliffs which dominate the Gulf of Saros in the direction of the deep ravine at Kereves Dere.

"As allies advanced the bayonets of the men and the swords of their officers gleamed under the bright sun. The principal attack was made upon the Turkish position located opposite the British trenches. British soldiers charged these trenches of the enemy and found that a majority of the Turkish defenders had been killed by the machine shells. Without stopping at their first success, our allies charged again and were successful in occupying the second line of trenches. At this point they were given support, which permitted them to turn about and attack and capture a Turkish redoubt which still held out. They took also further positions situated on the right and the left of the first line of trenches, and gained ground approximately 500 yards in depth.

"The French charged simultaneously with the British against the Turkish positions situated in front of Kereves Dere. The first line soon was taken, as was also a Turkish fortress which, with the ditches surrounding it, was heavily fortified by barbed wire entanglements. We called this fort 'Haricot.'

"The result of our attacks gave us an advance ranging from 150 to 500 yards along a lateral front of two kilometres (a mile and one-fifth). British troops took 500 prisoners, including 10 officers and seven German marines, who had formerly belonged to the German warships Goeben and Breslau, vessels which since the war have been under the Turkish flag."

TAKES A NAP AT WILSON.

German Count Says President "Has Closed Panama Canal" To Favor Allies' Interests.

Berlin, June 24.—The Tages Zeitung, the publication of which was suspended last Monday by the German authorities, reappeared yesterday.

The suspension order against this paper was issued, according to the general understanding, because of an article on the American note to Germany unfriendly in its tone to the United States.

The first issue of the Tages Zeitung to appear since its suspension contains another article by Count von Reventlow, whose previous statements on German-American relations are supposed to have incurred the displeasure of the German authorities. In yesterday's article Count von Reventlow makes a covert attack upon President Wilson in connection with reports that a peace conference is to be held in Switzerland, supposedly at the instigation of the President.

After mentioning these reports the Count says:

"Meanwhile President Wilson has closed the Panama Canal to shipping trade, in order that transportation of ammunition and other war materials from eastern harbors of the United States to Vladivostok, for the increasing Russian fighting strength, shall not suffer interruption. And over the Atlantic at the same time are voyaging from the United States floating arsenals and ammunition depots, in order that the cries for help from Great Britain and France shall be silenced as soon as possible. And again at the same time President Wilson demands that a sure and unimpeded journey be guaranteed these floating arsenals."

COURT OF APPEALS.

Many Cases Argued Yesterday in Wytheville.

Wytheville, Va., June 25.—Proceedings in the Supreme Court of Appeals yesterday were as follows:

Wood et al. vs. Phillips, argued by R. I. Roop and W. B. Kegley for plaintiff in error and C. B. Moomaw and R. F. Tompkins for defendant, and submitted; Virginia Railway vs. Andrews, administrator, removed to Richmond; Hairston et al. vs. Hill et al., removed to Richmond; Scott vs. Sprater et al., argued by L. G. Scott for appellant and C. B. Moomaw and V. M. Soder for defendant, and submitted; Reid et al. vs. Medleys, administrators, removed to Richmond; McClanahan, administrator, et al. vs. Norfolk and Western Railway Company et al., removed to Richmond.

Next cases to be called: Kirkpatrick and Howard, trustees, vs. Warden; Moomaw et al. vs. Jordan et al.; Perdue et al. vs. Sharkey's executor; Norfolk and Western Railway Company vs. Sink's executor; New York Life Insurance Company vs. Franklin.

NEW PLAN TO SAVE BECKER

Attorneys Will Carry Fight to United States Supreme Court.

New York, June 25.—Charles Becker will carry his fight against death in the electric chair to the United States Supreme Court, if plans now being formulated by Attorneys Burke Cochran and Martin T. Manton are successful.

The only alternative will be some move on the part of Governor Whitman, which would indicate a willingness to grant a stay of execution. Time will be demanded to investigate new evidence that Rose, Webber and Vallon swore falsely when they charged Becker ordered them to have Rosenthal assassinated.

The basis of the appeal will be information which is declared to corroborate a statement by Joseph Murphy, a conscience stricken convict, now identified as "No. 62730" in Sing Sing Prison. Murphy was in the Tombs in July, 1912, while Rose, Webber and Vallon were there. He asserts he overheard conversations by which the plan to "frame" Becker was concocted.

The information, which has been reduced to affidavit form, was first received in a letter addressed to Attorney Cochran on Tuesday.

FAST MAIL AND EXPRESS COLLIDE

Six Persons Killed on Mountain When Flyers Come Together.

ENGINES TELESCOPE.

Cause of Accident Not Fixed, Although It is Supposed to Have Resulted from Ignoring Orders.

Emmitsburg, Md., June 25.—A head-on collision on the Western Maryland occurred yesterday evening about 6 o'clock, when the fast mail train No. 10, from Hagerstown, and the Blue Mountain Express train No. 11 came together on the high bridge just west of Thurmont. The dead are: Mrs. W. Edwin Chipchase, Walter N. Chipchase, her son, 17 years old; Coleman Cook, engineer, of No. 10; C. R. Fritz, Hagerstown, traveling fireman on No. 10; J. R. Hayes, fireman, No. 11; Luther Hull, baggage-man on No. 11.

Several members of the crew were injured. The cause of the accident could not be verified on the scene, although the common report prevailed that the westbound was ordered to take the 60-mile siding.

Between these sidings there are several high bridges. On the first of them, west of Thurmont, known as High Bridge, the two trains crashed into each other. The impact was terrific. The engines completely telescoped each other. The express car of the Blue Mountain Express crashed down into the little mountain stream about 100 feet below. There are guard rails on the trestle, but they were carried away by the wreckage.

The first Pullman car of the westbound train was hanging perilously over the side of the high structure, jammed up against the tender of engine No. 209.

Baggageman Hull was in the express car that went down. Although the car was a pile of kindling, Hull survived about an hour. He had lost one of his legs in a previous wreck.

The Blue Mountain Express was made up of six coaches and an express car, while the accommodation consisted of two coaches and a baggage car. The fireman of the latter train jumped into the tree tops as he saw the coming wreck. It is believed that his back was broken.

Engineer Frank Snider, of the westbound train, struck to his post until the impact. With two broken legs he dragged himself across the wreckage of his train.

A sharp curve on either side of the bridge prevented the engineers from seeing the approaching trains until each had gotten well on the bridge. The Blue Mountain in charge of Conductor J. D. Ecker, was well upon the trestling when the express in charge of Conductor E. L. Seigman dashed around the curve.

The trains met with terrific impact. Both locomotives were practically welded together. The tender of the express and baggage car were hurled over the trestle. In the baggage car on a cot was Mrs. Chipchase, attended by her son, Walter H. Chipchase, on their way to their summer home. She, with Baggage Master Hull, was instantly killed.

Hagerstown, Md., June 24.—At the Western Maryland station here last night, when asked who was responsible for the wreck, it was stated that the two trains were to pass at Flint, west of Thurmont. The crews of both trains received the orders, it was stated, but for some reason the orders got mixed and the eastbound train did not stop at Flint, but passed on until it collided with the westbound train. It was stated that the wires were working badly when the orders were transmitted.

"The collision was due to an error of orders given by the train dispatcher at Hagerstown," stated Clarence H. Porter, an official of the railroad, speaking for President Gray.

INTERVIEW WITH THE POPE.

Inaccuracies So Evident It is Useless to Point Them Out, Vatican Organ Says.

Rome, June 25.—The Osservatore Romano, the official organ of the Vatican, publishes the following statement relative to the interview attributed to Pope Benedict in La Liberte of Paris:

"To put our readers and all discerning and impartial men of all nations on guard against arbitrary interpretation of the mind of the Holy See we are unable to let pass without remark the account of the interview of a foreign journalist with the sovereign pontiff, published and commented upon in the newspapers.

"To cut short these interpretations and commentaries we recall that there is an essential difference between the official public documents of the Holy See and private publications. As to that which concerns the European conflict the thought of the sovereign pontiff is not doubtful because it has been clearly expressed at different times in numerous pontifical documents, namely the encyclical of November 1, 1914, the Christmas discourse to cardinals, the consistorial allocation of January 22, 1915, many letters from the pontiff to cardinals and prelates and the recent letter of May 20 to Cardinal Doyen.

"These official public documents reflect exactly the ideas of the Pope and Holy See who accept all responsibility. The other documents, namely private publications and also the one discussed today, can contain and do contain in fact, a number of inaccuracies. Several of these inaccuracies are so evident it is useless to point them out."

Rome June 25.—The interview granted La Liberte by Pope Benedict is considered here of such gravity that the newspapers refused to believe it authentic until all doubt on this score was removed by the Vatican's statement published in the Osservatore Romano.

The Giornale d'Italia declares it seems impossible Benedict could have used the language attributed to him. The Tribune says the pontiff's words are destined to provoke animated discussion in France and Belgium, and will have a grave effect because of the interview as a whole and because the Pope spoke "of very thorny details with arguments which can be contradicted easily."

CREW'S MEMORANDUM.

Not of a Character to Afford Satisfaction to United States.

Washington, June 25.—Lord Crewe's memorandum to Ambassador Page dealing with the complaint of detention of American cargoes bound for neutral ports has been made public by the State Department.

State Department officials would not comment on the memorandum. In the opinion of experts on international law who have followed the controversy between the two governments, the memorandum is not of a character to afford much satisfaction. It holds out little expectation of material relief to American commerce from the hardships inflicted upon it by British regulations established in violation of the principles of international law, as pointed out by the United States in its note of March 30. Consequently its effect, it is believed, will be rather to sharpen the edge of the issue between the two governments.

PEACE CONDITIONS BROAD.

German Agrarian Party Would Demand Great Concessions.

Paris, June 25.—The following peace conditions of the German Agrarian Party were submitted to the imperial chancellor on May 20, according to the Berne Tagwacht:

1. The retention of the colonial empire.
2. Annexation of Belgium.
3. Annexation of French territory as far as the Department of Somme and the line of the Meuse, with the acquisition of the Briey copper mines and coal fields, the Department of Nord and Pas de Calais and their canals, and the surrender of the fortresses of Verdun and Belfort.
4. Payment of a war indemnity by France.
5. Annexation of territories east of Oriental Prussia, Posen, and Silesia.

RUSSIANS TURN ON PURSUERS

Heavy Loss to Austrians When They Attempt to Cross River.

STORM WITH BAYONETS

Czar's Troops Annihilate Enemy's Garrison Capturing 40 Officers and 1,700 Men.

Petrograd, June 25.—Russian troops in southeast Galicia have inflicted heavy losses on Austrian troops attempting to cross the Dniester.

"In the region of Kosmierzhyn on Wednesday we stormed with the bayonet a strong Austrian position on the mountainside," said an official statement today. "Our troops annihilated most of the enemy garrison, taking the survivors prisoners."

"Near Roudzianyn, we repulsed enemy forces who crossed the Dniester Wednesday morning, capturing forty officers and 1,700 men. The enemy is now attempting to maintain his positions in a group of houses on the opposite bank and is offering desperate resistance. A terrific struggle is going on at this point."

The war office admitted that at certain points German troops succeeded in crossing the Dniester, but declared that at other points the enemy has been thrown back across the stream in great confusion.

London, June 25.—The Russians are still retreating in the East; the French are slowly gaining at certain points on the western front.

ISLAND OF RHODES.

Spot on Which One of the Seven Wonders of the World Stood.

In landing on Rhodes the Italians are renewing a military acquaintance with the island which began in the thirteenth century, and under the sovereignty of Venice lasted for half a century, says the London Chronicle.

It would not be easy to name a more romantic island. The Crusades alone give it all it needs in historic wealth, but when the Colossus, the Rhodian law system, and the wonderful sculptures and reputed great paintings are thrown in Rhodes will stand no rival. Rhodes, as Great Britain is today, was at one time the greatest naval power in the world. It was Rome that shattered her power. Rome today is preparing to free her from the Turkish tyrant, who fixed himself upon the island in 1523 and has remained the master ever since.

The famous Colossus, one of the "seven wonders" of the world, no longer exists and the tradition that this gigantic statue bestrode the harbor of the capital has lately been exploded, thus destroying another cherished delusion of childhood.

AUTO THIEVES CAUGHT.

Gang Alleged to Have Stolen Cars Worth $300,000.

Kansas City, Mo., June 25.—Theft of motor cars worth $300,000 in the last three years are charged to members of an organized band, the leaders of which, the police declared today, are held at police headquarters.

The work of the gang, Chief of Detectives Ghent said today, has extended from Chicago to San Francisco and has taken in many large cities as well as a score of smaller ones in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. Several men compose the organization, according to Chief Ghent.

The three alleged leaders were arrested last night while overhauling a valuable car belonging to Charles A. McNeese, of Kansas City.

REVOKED HIS WILL.

Edward Key Leaves Entire Fortune to Divorced Wife.

Revoking the will he had made a short time before he left United States for Europe, by a codicil made on April 10, one day before his death, Edward Key, a former resident of Baltimore, and a descendant of Francis Scott Key, who died in Rome, Italy, on April 11 last, swept aside all provisions which he had made for his relatives and bequests to charitable institutions and left his entire fortune, estimated at several hundred thousand dollars, to his divorced wife, Florence Gross Horwitz Key.

That a reconciliation had taken place between the former husband and wife and they were about to be remarried is shown by the language of the codicil.

Mrs. Key, who was the daughter of the late Orville Horwitz, a well-known lawyer of Baltimore, was married to Edward Key on October 31, 1888, and the couple lived together until 1906. Mrs. Key filed a bill for divorce. The divorce was granted in November, 1903.

Under the will, if it had not been revoked by the codicil, the bulk of the estate would have gone to Mr. Key's collateral heirs.

The testator had made the bequests to relatives and friends among whom are Mrs. Virginia Key Daingerfield, a sister, Henry and Key Daingerfield, Thomas and Lura Jenkins, nephews and nieces. To the president and directors of Georgetown College was given $15,000, with the request that masses for his dead relatives be said twice a week.

The residue of his property was left to the Safe Deposit and Trust Company, in trust, to pay the income to his brother Henry for life. At his death it was to go to his sisters and at their death to his nephews, Henry and Key Daingerfield for their lives. At their death the estate was to be divided among the descendants of his brothers and sisters.

UNMOLESTED DURING STEAMER'S DETENTION AT KIRKWALL.

London, June 25.—Unknown to the British public Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, whose propaganda in favor of Germany while he was on a visit to the United States created much comment spent Wednesday night aboard the Norwegian steamer Bergensford in the harbor of Kirkwall, Orkney Islands.

Last night, however, Dr. Dernburg was proceeding to Sweden on his way to Germany aboard the Bergensford, which was detained at Kirkwall Wednesday presumably on suspicion that he carried contraband. The steamer was released yesterday afternoon.

The news that the Bergensford had been taken into Kirkwall did not become known until yesterday afternoon, when the release of the vessel was announced. The predicament of Dr. Dernburg in being forced to spend the night in a Scotch port is considered here an amusing one. He was in no danger of being stopped by the British officials in view of the promise to give him free passage. He did not leave the steamer while the examination of her cargo was being made.

Berlin, through Swedish advices, earned of the detention of the Bergensford Wednesday night.

LEAGUE'S PLAN FAILS TO APPEAL

Peace Movement Finds no Support Among Senators at Present.

STATE OBJECTIONS

General Aversion to the United States Entering Into Any Entangling Alliances With Europe.

Washington, June 25.—The league to enforce peace which was launched last week in Philadelphia, at a meeting attended by former President Taft and others of prominence, is not likely to get far, judging by the manner in which it is being received in Washington. Thus far there is little sign it will find favor with the Senate of the United States, which along with the President is the treaty making power, or that the Administration is going to get behind it. Among army and navy men, the league is not taken with much seriousness.

Two objections are urged by those who oppose the league's propaganda. One is that the United States would have to engage in an "entangling alliance" with European and other foreign nations. The other is that the United States might easily find itself in a situation where it would have to contribute heavily in ships and men and guns to a European war in which it had only an indirect interest.

"The proposed league to enforce peace would get us out of the frying pan into the fire."

MASONS PLAY BASEBALL

Teams of Alexandria-Washington
And Andrew Jackson Lodges Line up This Afternoon.

For two hours this afternoon, from four until six, the long existing bonds of fraternal brotherhood existing between the members of Alexandria-Washington and Andrew Jackson Lodges of Masons will be broken. For a while the dove of peace which has hovered for so many years above the square and compass of the historic lodge room on Cameron street will take a vacation for war is at hand. Mighty teams representing the two lodges will clash on the baseball diamond and while it is declared that the game will be played "on the square" nothing will be left undone to win the coveted victory. The rivalry is intense and large delegations of the two lodges are expected to be on hand to root for their representatives.

Captain R. D. Brumback of the Alexandria Washington team will put the following team on the field: Raymond Blumenfeld, worshipful master; Walter C. Foster, senior warden; M. Pendleton, junior warden; R. D. Brumback, senior deacon; Robert Zachary, junior deacon; John Geary, secretary; S. W. Pitts, treasurer; C. W. Fletcher, senior warden and Robert W. Cox, tiller.

For Andrew Jackson Lodge, Captain Harry B. Caton has selected the following great aggregation of hitters and fielders: Harry W. Wade, worshipful master; John L. Peed, senior warden; Joseph Schwarzmann, junior warden; H. B. Caton, senior deacon; William Harper, junior deacon; James Salyers, secretary; H. H. Newton, treasurer; P. P. Clark, senior warden, and E. F. Huffmann, tiller.

The game will be further enlivened by the presence of "Nick" Altrock, of the Washington team who will officiate as umpire. Altrock has attained a national reputation as a baseball comedian and will put on some new stunts for the Alexandria fans. The mighty Walter Johnson, the world's premier pitcher has promised to come down to see the game as well as the three masons on the Washington team, John Henry, Dan Moehler and Howard Shanks. The game will be called at 4 o'clock on the diamond of the Cardinal Athletic Club at the head of King St. The proceeds will go to the Ann Lee Memorial Home for the Aged.

MORE POWER FOR PLANT

Alexandria County Lighting Company
Plans to Expend Between $35,000 And $40,000.

Improvements to cost between $35,000 and $40,000 are now being installed in the new building of the Alexandria County Lighting Co. and when completed Alexandria will have one of the largest and most complete electric power plants of any city of its size in the country. The work now in progress will double the present capacity. A new turbine and condenser will be placed in position by July 1st. It will have 1,600 horse power capacity developing 1,250 kilowatts of electricity. The turbine, which weighs 50 tons, will rest upon a steel foundation. Work has just been completed on an additional battery of boilers which have a capacity of 350 horsepower, and it is expected that other boilers having double this capacity will be added shortly.

The work of installing the new machinery is under the direction of F. R. Weller, vice president and consulting engineer of the company, with G. W. Lucas as engineer in charge.

GIVEN SIX MONTHS IN JAIL.

CARDINALS VS. NATIONALS.

Good Game Promised for Sunday at the Cardinal Baseball Park.

Vic Gauzas' undefeated Nationals will come to Alexandria next Sunday to try and trim the Cardinals as they have their other opponents during the present year.

Captain Dug Merchant will put his strongest line up on the field in an effort to break the Nationals winning streak. Owen Nugent, the Cardinal's crack center fielder, who was injured in the game at Fort Washington, Md., recently, will play in his regular place against the Washingtonians. Lem Owens, the Nationals' star pitcher, will no doubt be on the firing line for his team, while the Cardinals will pick their choice from Eddie Thompson, Jack Risdon, or Garland White, with either Melvin Jones, McBride or Doleman behind the plate. Dick Snowden, chief of the wrecking crew, and his comrades will endeavor to solve the curves of the visitors' twirlers and cinch the game for the Cardinals if it is possible to do so. The game will be called about 2:30 p. m. The Nationals are a team who always keep their promise to play baseball games and are sure to be on time for this contest with the Cardinals.

No admission will be charged, but a silver donation will be received at the gate from the fans to pay the necessary expenses.

IMAGINARY GERMAN PERIL.

A certain element in the United States, who in past years have had their slumbers disturbed by an imaginary yellow peril, have turned over in bed their heads and now visions of Teutonic aggression are causing them to turn restlessly from side to side. The latest phase of their dreams is the Kaiser emerging victorious from the present war and casting covetous eyes upon the Panama Canal. Previous to the completion of this great highway the same genus saw the Japanese about to capture or destroy the canal before it could be put into use. But the canal was finished and ships are now passing through it, while the little brown man looks on as peaceably as ever.

The microscopic optics of pessimists now see Germany bent upon seizing the waterway in defiance of the United States and virtually making this country, while not a part of his empire, subject to decrees from Berlin.

This hallucination has been strengthened considerably by a German writer who warns the United States to beware of Germany, as submarines can be sent across the Atlantic and scenes now being enacted in the North Sea can be repeated on the coasts of North America.

It is said that a comet in shape like unto a sword hung over Jerusalem before the city was destroyed by Titus thirty years after the advent of the Christian era. Some excitable people in this country, should a heavenly wanderer appear at this time, would doubtless imagine its shape to be suggestive of a submarine.

ALLEGED CURE FOR CANCER.

Members of the Medical Society of New Jersey are discussing with interest an announcement by Dr. W. Homer Axford that a new treatment for inoperable cancer has been tested, apparently with success, in the Polytechnic Hospital, New York, with which he is connected. The treatment it is said, was discovered two years ago by Dr. Alexandria Horvitz, of Cornell University.

Dr. Axford asserted in an address at Spring Lake Wednesday that experiments indicated that a curative agent had been found for cancerous growths and all abnormal cell developments. He said the treatment had been applied in the Polytechnic Hospital only in so-called incurable cases, and that of 200 patients treated only one died. Experiments first were made in cases of chest cancer, but abdominal cancer cases have shown improvement.

The treatment was described as the injection of an extract of vegetable origin. Dr. Axford said many months would be required to complete the investigation of the new treatment.

It was shown some time ago by statistics that about as many persons in the United States fight cancer as consumption. This terrible malady has been raging among the human race from time immemorial, and in this day it seems to be steadily growing. Many live in dread of the disease, and the appearance of a suspicious pimple, causes dread to many until a doctor pronounces it benign.

Physicians have from time to time believed they have found means of checking these growths, but, so far, the disease has defied mankind. Hence all reports to the effect that cancer remedies have been found are read with interest.

"Virginia" is one of the "Lays of Ancient Rome," edited by Macaulay. In describing conditions under "Appian Claudius" they are likened under unto, a spreading ulcer which leechcraft cannot cure. There is no doubt that cancer tormented ancients as does it the moderns.

ALLIES NOT OF ONE ACCORD.

While it is almost impossible to ascertain public sentiment in Germany, by reason of the strict censorship in vogue, it is presumed that the bulk of the people of that country desire the present war to continue notwithstanding its terrible toll in men and money. But it is to be supposed there are some in Fatherland who would breathe easier at signs of peace. For the best reason they keep their opinions to themselves.

It is known, however, that the people of England and France are not as one man during the fearful ordeal through which those countries are now passing. Great Britain is experiencing the considerable difficulty in keeping men at work who are supposed to furnish munitions. While menaced by a fierce foreign foe, the country is beset by labor troubles and recently by a cabinet crisis.

Dispatches from Paris show that the French are also having trouble, scenes depicted in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday being unfortunate in this critical stage of the country's history. There were charges and countercharges concerning the conduct of the war, which are causing no little anxiety to those at the head of the government.

The people of the United States are by no means of one accord. Multitudes are apparently ready to sell their birthright for a mess of pottage—that is peace at any sacrifice. They are herding around a man who has been dreaming to these many years of altruism, but who is looking after himself all the time. Should the unlooked-for occur, President Wilson may find his movements seriously clogged by people who are ever seeking something to condemn in public officials. Peace is a blessed condition, but in order to enjoy it every citizen should put on a solid front against those who would disturb it.

NEWS OF THE DAY

President Wilson does not see any prospect for an early peace in Europe.

Inhabitants of towns in Alsace are abandoning their homes because of the French advance and fleeing to fortified cities.

A German submarine operating off the coast of Scotland has sunk seven British fishing boats in the last forty-eight hours. Their crews were saved by other boats.

In an attempt to halt the French offensive about Arras the Germans have begun a heavy bombardment of that town. Among the victims of the shells were several nuns, who were killed in the Holy Sacrament Hospital.

The First Western Ontario battalion was all but annihilated in the action near La Bassée, in northern France, on June 15 last. Out of between 600 and 700 men, the battalion lost in killed and wounded nearly 500, including 20 officers.

Thirty-six tons of explosives and metal were fired into Dunkirk Wednesday from the German positions somewhere behind Dixmude. Several civilians were killed or wounded and considerable material damage was done, but not a single shell reached the port or any other point of military importance.

The American steamer Neches has been seized in the Downs, and ordered to proceed to London to discharge her general cargo, which is to be thrown into the prize court. The contention of the British government that the cargo came from a country hostile to Great Britain is denied by the shippers. The cargo of the Neches was loaded at Rotterdam, and the steamer was on her way to New York when she was seized.

A new sensation was sprung in the Thaw case in New York yesterday by the announcement of Deputy Attorney General Cook that he will delve into the reasons for Thaw's expulsion from Harvard University in 1892 in the effort to establish his present insanity. Scandalous details never before brought to light, which will materially aid the State's contention of insanity are alleged to lie behind the abrupt termination of Thaw's university career.

Knox Booth, former chief of the government internal revenue district of Tennessee and Alabama, with headquarters at Nashville, Tenn.; John L. Casper, a Kansas City distiller, and five other men were indicted late yesterday by a Federal grand jury, which has been sitting at Fort Smith, Ark., for several days. The indicted men are charged with an alleged conspiracy to defraud the government by the illegal operation of distilleries in several States.

The correspondent at The Hague of the London Exchange Telegraph Company transmits a telegram received there from Munich concerning an article published by the Neueste Nachrichten of Munich, commenting on the voyage of a German submarine from Wilhelmshaven to the Dardanelles. This paper points out that the distance from Bremen to New York is only 3,600 miles, and expresses the hope that this submarine exploit "will make the war party in the United States think twice."

For seven hours Wednesday William S. Bond, a Wilmington, Del., chemist, kept himself alive in an airtight and water-tight submerged box in the basement of Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, by means of a chemical compound he has invented to change carbonic acid gas into pure air. Bond's invention is intended for use in submarines. Bond says his invention will do away entirely with oxygen tanks, which are now used in submarines to replenish the air, and will enable the boats to stay under water indefinitely.

People of the various towns in California affected by a series of earthquakes during the last 36 hours have begun the work of reconstructing wrecked and damaged buildings, which represented a property loss of approximately $1,500,000. Five severe earthquake shocks occurred at Calexico last night. People rushed into the streets and open spaces, but no appreciable damage was done. The dead at Mexicali number eight, four Americans and four Mexicans. The number of injured is placed at a score.

When Speaker Burwell called for the reading of Governor Slaton's annual message in the Georgia house yesterday morning a member arose and proposed that a bitter attack by Tom Watson, former Populist candidate for President, on the governor for his action in commuting Frank's sentence be read instead. "I think this attack on the governor is more appropriate than his message," said the member. There were some indications of approval, but the speaker ignored the matter and the governor's message was read.

A dispatch from Berlin says there are good prospects that the forthcoming German note to the United States will go a long way toward meeting the American government's wishes regarding Germany's conduct of submarine warfare and making passenger traffic on the high seas safe. While it is stated that submarine action against hostile merchantmen will not and cannot be abandoned entirely, it is increasingly probable that the German note will embody some proposals to exempt ships employed wholly or principally in passenger traffic from submarine attack.

William Jennings Bryan, addressing a meeting in Madison Square, New York, last night, under the auspices of "The Friends of Peace," gave his definition of national honor and called upon his hearers to cast their influence, not in favor of either side, but in favor of peace for the United States and against war with any of the belligerent nations. He reiterated his views regarding his proposal to submit all disputes to an international commission. Fully 30,000 persons attended the meeting. After Mr. Bryan spoke the meeting passed a resolution calling upon the government to place an embargo on the exports of arms and ammunition.

VIRGINIA NEWS

With 8.1 for each thousand white population and 24.2 per thousand colored, Norfolk in May showed the lowest death rate in its history.

The movement looking to the establishment of a commission form of government for Lynchburg is being revived.

After an illness of several months, James R. Perdue, one of the most prominent and best-loved citizens of Richmond, died yesterday morning. He was a Confederate veteran.

Charles B. Durbin, the famous Philadelphia long distance swimmer, arrived in Norfolk to complete arrangements for his attempt to swim from Cape Charles to Cape Henry tomorrow. This feat has never been accomplished and seldom attempted.

Bishop Thomas C. Darst is in Newport News. The University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., has honored Bishop Darst by conferring upon him the degree of doctor of divinity. The bishop had already received this degree from the Theological Seminary of Virginia, from which he was graduated.

N. Sidney Jones, son of the best known citizens of Berkeley, was drowned Wednesday evening while fishing off the log pond of the Foshburgh Lumber Company's mill. The boat in which Mr. Jones was seated was struck by one of the barges of the Atlantic Coast Line, which was being towed by a tug.

Pleading guilty before Judge McDowell in Federal Court, at Roanoke yesterday of being in a conspiracy to assassinate Deputy Marshal C. P. Phlegar, who was shot to death on the edge of Patrick County, on Shooting Creek May 14, Oscar Dillon, a 19 year old mountaineer, was sentenced to serve ten years in the Moundsville penitentiary.

Deputy Sergeant A. W. Gillette, of Emporia, shot and killed E. F. Frederick, a negro from Godsboro, N. C., yesterday. The negro was stealing a ride on a freight train. He was ordered to get off and submit to arrest. Instead of that, he drew a gun and shot at the officer twice at close range. Sergeant Gillette returned the fire, killing him instantly. When searched, $87 in money, beside a gold watch and a .38-caliber police special gun was found.

Members of the State Board of Medical Examiners decline to make known name of a student who is alleged to have been detected in cheating in the examination yesterday before that body, when 127 persons appeared for license to practice medicine. It is learned that the suspected man is not a graduate of the Medical College of Virginia, and, further, that he is not a resident of Virginia. It is believed that he is a resident of the neighboring States. The student protested that he was innocent.

Dr. J. H. Thomas, of Greenville, Augusta County, was before the State Board of Medical Examiners in Richmond this week on the charge of being a drug fiend and a dangerous man to practice his profession. Several months ago charges were preferred against Dr. Thomas by a grand jury and the physician was fined $5 and his license as a druggist taken from him. After a lengthy hearing the state board continued the case until December and placed the physician druggist on probation pending a further hearing of the case.

Thomas S. Martin, senior United States Senator from Virginia, was the guest of honor at the monthly meeting of the Norfolk Rotary Club held at Ocean View Wednesday night. Senator Martin said that he was in Norfolk to enjoy himself after strenuous labors, and that he knew of no place in the world where a person could enjoy himself more thoroughly than in Norfolk. "The man who says he is working altogether for the public welfare with absolutely no regard for his own interests is more or less of a fraud," said Senator Martin. "The real spirit of progress is seen in the man who looks out for his own interests along with a genuine interest for others involved."

RUSSIAN TACTICS.

Muscovites Manifesting Excellent Strategy in Their Movements.

American military experts look upon the German occupation of Lemberg not as a German victory but as an excellent sample of Russian strategy.

One of the best known officers in the United States army yesterday discussed the Lemberg evacuation at length with special reference to the fact it will play in the allies' campaign.

"When Lemberg fell, Berlin heralded it as a great victory and the German people celebrated," he said.

"On its face it looks like a victory, and if Lemberg were the German objective it would be a great victory, but Lemberg is not the German objective and the Russian evacuation of the city is in reality a very good piece of strategy from the Russian standpoint.

"In considering the war on the Russian frontier there are several vital facts which must be kept constantly before the mind, or else the layman is likely to lose his perspective completely. The fighting at Lemberg is merely incidental to the general program.

"Germany today is confronted by two enemy lines. One of these, the French line, is approximately 500 miles in length. The second, the Russian line, is approximately 1,000 miles in length.

Eventually, it will be a war of iron and of men—these are the two great elements that must be conserved.

"England is short of guns, ammunition, and men. Within a few months this shortage will be wiped out. Russia is dreadfully short of guns and ammunition and of trained men. Within a few months these weaknesses will be wiped out. In the case of Russia it may be the spring of 1916 before she is in a position to put a real army, with modern guns and ammunition, in the field.

"Now, the single service that Russia can be expected to render her allies at this time is to harass Germany by maintaining long lines and therefore compelling her to keep a great number of men on the Russian frontier, thereby weakening the lines against the French and rendering them incapable of a great offensive movement.

When the Russians made their first drives into Austria and Germany they could have had little hope of continuing the movement indefinitely, because of the shortage of arms and ammunition. Their only purpose was to embarrass the Kaiser by compelling him to withdraw hundreds of thousands of troops from the other front.

"This he did without delay. The German offensive movement was halted and the German armies began to drive at the Russian lines. Just as soon as the Germans began their drives the Russian started on a slow retreating movement.

"Let us assume that the Germans have driven the Russians back approximately 150 miles. What does that mean? If Russia were the size of Germany it might mean much, but as a matter of fact Germany might continue at this rate all summer and yet she would be the loser in the long run. The reason is simple. The Czar cannot afford to lose millions of men. The Kaiser cannot do so. If in the retreating movement the Russians kill one German for every Russian the Germans kill, the advantage will be with Russia.

As long as the Russian line holds the Kaiser's efforts will be wasted, because every movement he makes costs him a life that is worth to him five times as much as the life that he went with it is worth to the Czar.

Information for Lung Sufferers

The makers of Eckman's Alternative will be pleased to send reports of recoveries from tuberculosis and a booklet of interest to sufferers with information about diet and fresh air. Investigate this case:—
2141 N. Washington Ave., Philadelphia.
"My Dear Sir:—For two years I was afflicted with hemorrhages of the lungs, and later I was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia. When I recovered sufficiently to walk about the house I was left with a frightful hacking cough, which no medicine I had taken could alleviate. It was at this time, March, 1902, that I started taking Eckman's Alternative. In a short time my cough was gone and I was pronounced well. I cannot speak too highly for the good it has done." (Abbreviated.)

MORE GERMAN THOROUGHNESS

The world has heard much of German preparation and thoroughness since the beginning of the war and new examples of it are discovered nearly every day. Two very striking illustrations have just come to view. The one has to do with Germany's marvelous preparedness for war, the other with her struggle to utilize her foodstuff resources so as to prevent famine.

Former Senator W. A. Clark, the copper magnate, related recently how for three years preceding the outbreak of war Germany had taken half the annual supply of copper produced in the United States, or as much as the rest of the world put together. Germany's purchases amounted to 600,000,000 pounds a year. Senator Clark declared that it was impossible for Germany to have used all this in her industries, and that she must have been hoarding it, as she would gold, against the possibility of war.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

TIGHTENING RING ON FOOD.

Pressure Exerted to Keep Supplies Out of Countries of the German Allies.

London, June 25.—There is a further tightening of the ring by which food supplies are prevented from entering Germany, Austria and Turkey. An order in council announces that the exportation of certain important foods for men and beast is totally prohibited, while other foods and forage may only be exported to France, Russia, Spain and Portugal.

Goods that must not be sent to foreign ports in Europe other than France, Russia, Spain and Portugal (Russian Baltic ports and Italy banned, as are also neutral countries such as Holland, Norway, Sweden and Denmark, are onions, potatoes, rye, flour, rye meal, buckwheat, millet, molasses, arsenic, and its compounds.

ACCUSED BY GIRL; SLEW HER.

Riddle Says She Struck Him After Making Serious Charge.

Lima, O., June 25.—Dorrance S. Riddle, 25, took the stand in his own defense here yesterday in the first-degree murder trial for the killing of his sweetheart, Susie Coleman, 16, and told his story of the crime. He said he met the girl accidentally on the street on the night of the killing and that she grabbed him by the arm and started walking with him. She led him to the yards of the C. H. & D. Railroad, he said, and accused him of being responsible for her condition, and when he denied it she struck him. Then, he said, he grabbed her and choked her. He said he did not intend to kill her.

J. T. Gibbons, head of the real estate firm of J. T. Gibbons & Co. of Richmond, was found yesterday afternoon in his automobile, eight miles from the city, with the top of his head blown off. A shotgun by his side was mute evidence of suicide. Gibbons was about 45 years old and leaves a widow and several children. It is stated he had been in bad health for some time, and this is given as the cause for his act.

How Mrs. Harrod Got Rid of Her Stomach Trouble

"I suffered with stomach trouble for years and tried everything I heard of, but the only relief I got was temporary until last spring I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them at our drug store. I got immediate relief from that dreadful heaviness after eating and from pain in the stomach," writes Mrs. Linda Harrod, Fort Wayne, Ind. Obtainable everywhere.
